

Yuba County

Engaging in a spectrum of artistic activities, from the whimsical Candy Land in the Library to the intricacies of rocket building workshops, Yuba County Office of Education (YCOE) recognizes that art is not just an extracurricular, but an essential pillar of education. Through partnerships with the Yuba County Library and events like Very Special Arts at Virginia School, YCOE fosters creativity and expression, proving that art is not merely an option but a catalyst for holistic learning. From gingerbread house workshops to showcasing the talents of Yuba County Career Preparatory Charter School in Prospect Magazine, we believe that art, in all its forms, shapes minds, builds community, and enriches the educational tapestry. These snapshots of our art-centric initiatives are not just pictures; they are windows into a world where imagination thrives and education becomes a masterpiece.

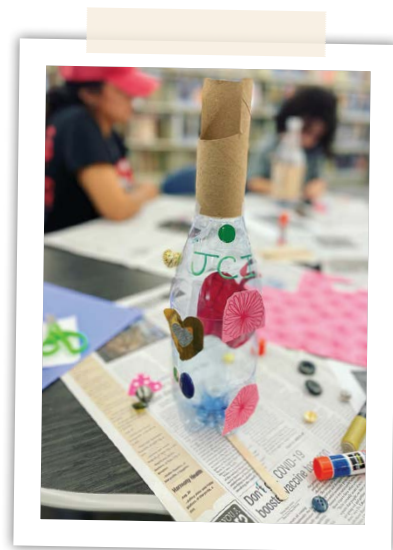

- Rob Gregor, Yuba County Superintendent of Schools

Yuba County Office of Education ■ Contact: Amy Nore, amy.nore@yubacoe.k12.ca.us

The Yuba County Office of Education (YCOE) is committed to promoting high-quality visual and performing arts education programs throughout the county. Working together with community partners, YCOE has been able to offer an array of artistic activities that have enriched the educational experience of the students.

ARTS AND CRAFTS AT THE YUBA COUNTY LIBRARY

YCOE partners with the Yuba County Library to provide creative workshops to engage in a variety of artistic activities that help shape children's minds and build a sense of community.

VERY SPECIAL ARTS & FESTIVAL DAY AT VIRGINIA SCHOOL

One of the most significant initiatives that YCOE has undertaken is the yearly Very Special Arts & Festival Day at Virginia School, where students with moderate to severe disabilities from around the county enjoy a day filled with fun art activities.

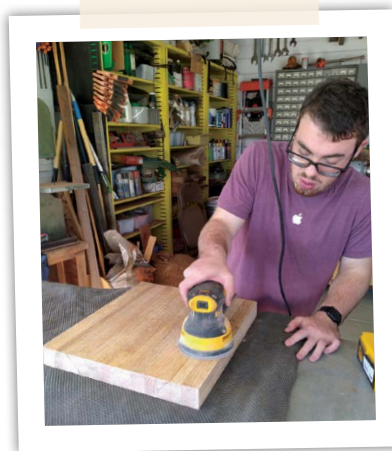

Layla Rhoades submission to the Prospect Magazine

YCOE STUDENTS AT YUBA COLLEGE

Students from YCOE participate in woodworking at Yuba College. Students thrive as they create their own masterpieces.

By collaborating with community partners, YCOE has been able to provide students with opportunities to explore and express their creativity. YCOE is committed to promoting high-quality visual and performing arts that enrich the educational experience for all students.

Prospect Magazine has featured student artwork from the Yuba County Career Preparatory Charter School. This has provided an opportunity for students to display their creativity, and it has also given them a platform to share their ideas with the broader community.

Superintendent Gregor with daughter Heaven at the Let's Go Rally in Olivehurst, CA, with graffiti artist, Shane Grammer